📇 PROFILE

Hi.I am a student pursuing Bachelor's of IT in St Xavier's College, Mumbai. My interest for this field started when I uncovered the vast benefits and uses of the most brillaint invention - Mobile phones. Having a creative mind, I have keen interests in problem solving and real world cases. Im also quite skilled in creative designing, digital art and editing and have a good hand on the different softwares in these fields.Currently im very much willing to learn further more in the field of Data science, Artificial Intelligence and Machine learning. Im yet to discover this vast field and lack any experience for the same.
